

Regal Home Inspections, LLC

Find of the Week 3/16/2019

This week's find of the week is another recipe for death. The furnace's exhaust (aka flue) pipe has gaping holes in it. Some (maybe all) of the furnace's exhaust is leaking into the crawl space with the living area directly above. Carbon monoxide can easily enter the living space and can be fatal.

There are gaps and holes in the furnace's exhaust pipe due to rust.